Kuntal Vyas Aggarwal Resaiki Interiors

As a designer, I enjoy the freedom to design a space or a product form. I always appreciate the variety in the fluid form as there is no specific definition to it. Due to this preference and my design style, I love to work with Corian, which is a man-made material. In fact, I discourage extensive use of any natural material, as this is the least I can do to contribute towards conserving nature.

The shades, colors and flexibility of making Corian take any shape or form makes it a favorite. We do have the same freedom with wood these days, but I discourage too much usage of it.

Ivory and grey Corian are my favorite colors, which you will see in most of my furniture pieces such as tables, wall partitions with engraving, wall panels, reception desks, etc.
